Juggling with drainage

Juggling with drainage, is a totally simple game with an insane fun factor. By moving back and forth, a tennis ball can be thrown into the air and then caught again with the other side.

Material

- Cord
- Drainage tube (diameter approx. 10cm)

Run

The tennis ball should now be tried to get out of the tube by back/forward, down/up, movements and then caught again with the tube.

Building instructions

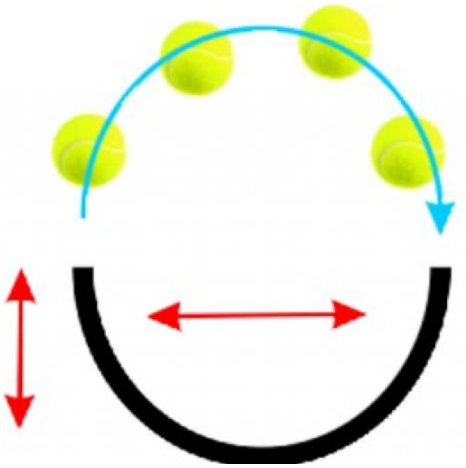

You only need a so-called drainage pipe with 10 cm diameter. There are in the hardware store and often at construction companies as waste pieces for free.

These two drainage pipe ends are then tied together with a cord.
