Description
This game requires an even number of players. They stand shoulder to shoulder facing inside the circle and hold hands. In turn, each says either "inside" or "outside", so that an "outside" is between two "inside" and vice versa. The players count together to 3 and lean inwards/outwards, feet remaining stable on the floor. Players keep their balance with their hands. After a period of settling in, the game will work so well that the players, in their respective positions, will count to 3 and reverse positions without the circle breaking.
