Youth+Sport articles

The Federal Office of Sport in Magglingen, Y+S Documentation, has many teaching materials and brochures on the subject of Youth+Sport

Core teaching material Youth and Sport

The core teaching material Youth + Sport is the binding basis for the training of all Y+S leaders. It contains the pedagogical and sport-theoretical guidelines for teaching children and young people.

Article description

In addition to the sport- and training-specific teaching media, the core teaching material represents the central theoretical teaching documentation of Jugend+Sport. With the help of this reference content, participants in Y+S training modules are enabled to take the step from learner to teacher, from athlete to leader and later from leader to expert. The core teaching material for Y+S sport is based on the "Core Concepts for Teaching and Training" and, taking into account the statements of the Y+S mission statement, directs its content to its own target group and its needs.
