

Battle of the ants

A game for Ameisli

Game form

The game is played in two or more races. Each race is identified by a colored ribbon worn over the shoulder. Each race has an anthill.

This is a field (about 4 m in diameter) delineated by a plastic band. In each anthill there is a queen ant (or a king ant). This is a leader who supervises what is going on in the heap. Each player receives a game pass and five game cards at the beginning of the game.

Objective

The goal is for each race to collect as many game cards as possible.
