Bees and flowers

-two teams - Flowers and Bees

-three fields - The Meadow, The Middle Ground and The Hive

- x=/number of people/ = half a team

Missions

Mission Bees - each of them to touch 2x different Flowers

Mission Flowers - each to touch x different Bees

Game

There are three fields - the Meadow, the Hive and the Middle Ground, which is in between. In the beginning the bees are in the Hive and the flowers are in the Meadow. At the start of the game, everyone has to go to the Middle Ground and try to complete their assigned mission depending on which team they are on. If he succeeds, he has to go to the opposing team's field, where no one is allowed to chase him, but he can't go out himself either. A participant can go to the opponent's field without fully completing his task, but if he does, he cannot return to complete it. The game ends when there are no participants left in Middle Earth, and the team with the most people who have completed their mission accurately wins.

If anyone is touched or touches more players than they should have, they automatically go to the opposing field and wait for the game to end.
