

Giants and dwarves

Everyone lines up and the leader stands at the front facing the children. When the leader says giants, the children should stand up straight. When the leader says midgets, the children should squat. Different types can be added such as making a sky giant, the children should jump in the air. If anyone messes up it burns. The game continues until only one player is left.

Origin of the photo

Maria Mateva