Burning ball

Brennball is a game in which two groups compete against each other, trying to run as many laps as possible.

Game data

- Age: 8+
- Number of players: 10+
- Number of leaders: 1
- Duration: 20min+

Material

- 1 ball
- 5 sheets (scrap) or chalk
- Pad and pencil for the leader who counts the points.

Preparation

Lay out the sheets as shown in the picture above.

Game procedure

- Divide the players into two groups.
- One group spreads out in the field (group A), the other (group B) lines up at the start line.
- The first player in group B throws the ball as far as possible and runs off immediately.
- Group A tries to get the ball back to the start on the sheet as quickly as possible in order to "burn".
- If a player in group B has not arrived on a sheet or at the finish line when the ball is "burned", he is eliminated and must return to the back of the line.

- If he is shot down while running with the ball, he is also eliminated.
- If he is on a sheet, he may continue running when the next player throws.
- The player who hits the target with his own throw scores 3 points for his group, otherwise 1 point.
- If a player in the field catches the ball, his group also gets a point, or the other group gets one point.
- The group standing in the field must not stand in the way of the players running.
- A leader counts the points on a block.
- After half-time (time period can be chosen) the groups change.

Whoever has the most points at the end is the winner.
